This Bible belonged to James Virgil Darby ^{b. Nov. 19 - 1809}
It was the father of James Virgil Darby - (Rev. V. L. Darby's father) ^{Died Apr 1 - 1861}
He was the grandfather of Rev. Virgil Lindsey Darby ^{b. Sept. 1 - 1842} and great grandfather of Virgil Lindsey Darby Jr. ^{b. Oct. 27 - 1922} 1960

A son of Reverend Virgil Lindsey Darby took this family bible to Samuel Armistead Darby Sr. in San Antonio Texas (his uncle). Mrs. Virgil Darby wrote her family's record in it.

Samuel Armistead Darby III learned of this Bible in 1975 and requested it from his grandparents.

When Mrs. Darby Sr. broke up housekeeping in 1977-1978 to move to her daughter's home in Winter Garden, Florida, she gave the book to Samuel A. Darby, Jr. for safekeeping until III had his own home. Some of the later writing has been done by Carolyn Darby, wife of one Sam (Jr.) and mother of another Sam III

Note the "ancient ink" held up better than the modern —

MARY F. DARBY has passed away to her eternal reward. She fell asleep Jan. 29, 1878, after eight days illness. She was a meek and patient sufferer. She was born in Nottaway co., Va., Dec. 8, 1783. Professed faith in Jesus at an early age, and attached herself to the Methodist Church, in which she remained a faithful and devoted member until she became unable to visit her Church. But still wishing to remain with the children of God, she attached herself to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, which was near her residence. She was the daughter of Abram Hatchel, was married in 1808, and moved from Virginia to Tennessee, in 1829, and remained until 1851. She then moved to Yell co., Ark., and remained until her death. She was loved by all who knew her, for her Christian worth and noble spirit. While suffering she would repeat and sing her favorite song, "Jesus can make a dying bed feel soft as downy pillows are." She was one of the "steadfast unmoving" disciples, always rejoicing in the work of the Lord. Her sufferings are now over, and her spirit reigns with the eternal.
