How blest and happy is the man

Who walketh not astray

In counsel of ungodly men

For stand in sinners way,

He sitteth in the scowre chair,

But places his delight

Upon God law and meditation

On his law day and night

He shall be like a tree that growes

Set by a river side

Which in its season yieldeth fruit,

And green the leaves abides

And all he does shall prosper well

And wicked are not so,

But like the chaff before the wind,

Are driven to and fro.
