Archivists, librarians, and records custodians are invited to participate in a two and one-half day series of workshops on archival principles and techniques. The Tennessee Archives Institute (TAI) is an introduction to some of the issues most essential to basic archival management. Participants will have the opportunity to interact and exchange ideas with archival staff from around the state.

Participants who complete the three-year cycle of courses will receive certification as Archives Manager from the Department of State and the Tennessee State Library and Archives.

Enrollment is limited. Returning participants and those eligible for the three-year certification will receive first priority. Registration may be limited to one person per institution.

Application deadline: Tuesday, August 11, 2015

Applicants will be notified of their acceptance status within 15 days after the application deadline. Please do not submit the registration fee with your application. Wait until after you receive admission confirmation.

Send completed applications to: TN Archives Institute, 403 7th Avenue North, Nashville, TN 37243 or Myers.Brown@tn.gov.

The Tennessee Archives Institute is sponsored by the Tennessee Secretary of State's Office with funding assistance provided by a grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission.
